From the Survivor Outreach Services Coordinator

It is hard to believe we will end 2021 in just eight weeks! Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Eve are just around the corner and as you know, with the holidays comes winter. I have read or heard from hunting friends that the deer they have harvested are coming in with a layer of fat thicker than previous years. Apparently, that may be an indicator of a longer and/or colder winter. As such, I have been storing up extra wood for the fireplace. What preparations have you made for the upcoming winter months? Below are some winterizing tips that I hope prove beneficial to you in your winter preparations.

Your vehicle:

Check the tire tread. Maintain tire pressure. Fill the washer fluid with a deicing formula. Maintain no less than half a tank of gas.

Consider having your vehicle professionally winterized. Make a winter kit to keep in your vehicle.

Below are some suggested items for your kit:

Blankets or sleeping bags;

waterproof mittens

heavy socks

hat with face covering

extra set of clothing

ice scraper and snow brush

flashlight with extra batteries

jumper cables

tow chain or rope

first aid kit

bottled water (with enough room for expansion, should it freeze)

Multifunction tool (Leatherman, Swiss Army knife, etc.)

road flares or other attention-getting device to use if you get stranded

a small/collapsible shovel

bag of sand to use for traction

hand warmers

winter boots

snack food such as nuts, beef jerky, candy bars, granola bars, and other quick energy foods that will store well and not freeze

Your home:

Change the filters in your heating and cooling system. Perform annual maintenance on the system or hire a contractor to do it for you.

Seal leaks around windows and doors.

Check and clean your gutters and downspouts.

If applicable, clean your chimney and stock up on firewood.

Test your some and carbon monoxide detectors.

Disconnect and drain garden hoses and faucets.

If applicable, shut down the pool and winterize the sprinkler system.

Bring out the snow shovels and ensure they are in good condition. Pick up some rock salt or ice melt while it is readily available. If you do not plan to do this yourself, hire someone now that will keep your driveway and sidewalks clear of snow and ice when the time comes.

What happens if the power goes out?

Keep blankets in a convenient location and wrap in those to stay warm. Dress in loose, warm layers of clothing, such as wool or wool blend fabrics. Keep a stash of *Hot Hands warmers in your home. You can find this product just about anywhere at a reasonable price. They come in different sizes and provide warmth for 5-18 hours depending on which size/type you get. If you use a propane space heater, be very careful to avoid carbon monoxide poisoning by using proper ventilation and ensure you have functional carbon monoxide detectors in your home. If you use electricity to cook, be sure to have food in the pantry that does not require cooking prior to consumption such as canned meats, fish, vegetables, crackers, nuts, granola or energy bars, etc.

One last thought: With energy prices expected to increase upwards of 30% over the next several months, if you find yourself unable to pay your utility bill, just contact your utility company. Many offer extended payment options to pay down a high bill and some offer one-time grants to pay off a high bill.

Communicate with your utility company beforehand so that you are prepared in the event you end up needing assistance.

For low-income families, the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) provides federally funded assistance with home energy bills, energy crises, weatherization, and energy-related minor home repairs year 'round for those who are income-eligible. The Illinois contact information for LIHEAP is 217-552-2206 or 877-41109276 or via the website at www.LIHEAPillinois.com. The LIHEAP home weatherization web site is www.weatherizationillinois.com.

In closing, I would like to say thank you to our Veterans for your service and wish each of you and your family members a blessed Thanksgiving!

Chris Milchuck

Legislative Liaison Update

Congress passed a Continuing Resolution to keep the government working into December.

The House passed its version of the Defense Authorization and sent it to the Senate, where it is still being considered.

Those two data points means that MOAA members must remain vigilant while Congress continues to “make its sausage.”

MOAA legislative objectives are all tied to having an approved federal budget and an approved NDAA.

Issues like TriCare for Life (TFL) and other TriCare programs are under attack as a means to fund other federal programs.

For the latest information on what is happening in Washington make sure you are signed up to receive MOAA’s weekly e-mail newsletters.

You can “opt in” to get the newsletters on your MOAA “profile” page.

The bottom line is that defense personnel issues are all in limbo and as the Nation’s premier advocacy group for America’s veterans we must stand the post and be watchfully proactive.

Let your Congressperson know what is important to you and our service personnel.

Never Stop Serving!

Homelessness among Veterans in the United States

Being homeless, or being at risk of homelessness, is one of the most difficult problems any Veteran can face.

In its 2017 Annual Homeless Assessment report to Congress, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development reported that just over 40,000 Veterans were experiencing homelessness (including those living on the street or in a shelter, temporary safe haven, or any place unfit to reside in) on a given night in January 2017.

Of those Veterans, 91 percent were men and 9 percent were women. That number stands in comparison to a total population of more than 18.5 million living Veterans.

These numbers represent a 45 percent decline in Veteran homelessness between the years 2009–2017.

VA is committed to ending homelessness among Veterans. The department's focus includes:

- Conducting coordinated outreach to seek out Veterans in need of assistance.
- Connecting homeless and at-risk Veterans with housing solutions, health care, community employment services, and other support.
- Collaborating with federal, state, and local agencies; employers; housing providers; faith-based and community nonprofits; and other groups to expand employment and affordable housing options for Veterans leaving homelessness.

VA's National Center on Homelessness Among Veterans (NCHAV), established in 2009, works to promote recovery-oriented care for Veterans who are homeless or at risk for homelessness by developing and disseminating evidence-based policies, programs, and best practices.

VA's Health Care for Homeless Veterans program offers examinations treatment, referrals, and case management services to homeless Veterans at more than 135 locations.

The National Call Center for Homeless Veterans (1-877-4AID-VET) is staffed by trained responders providing support and resources to Veterans and their families who lack secure housing. Live chat with trained responders is available at the Veterans Crisis Line website.

Selected Major Accomplishments

1987: Initiated the Northeast Program Evaluation Center (NEPEC) to serve homeless Veterans

1991: Established that, in Vietnam Veterans, there does not appear to be a causal relation between homelessness and military service, including exposure to combat

2013: Determined there is an association between homelessness among Veterans and childhood problems such as abuse and family instability

2015: Learned that 30 percent of female and 9 percent of male homeless Veterans have children in their custody

2015: Found that Veterans who had been discharged from the military for misconduct had dramatically higher rates of homelessness than those who left under normal circumstances

2016: Determined that Veterans who had undergone sexual trauma while in the military were more likely to experience homelessness

2017: Found that Veterans' mental health and housing improved when they accessed free legal services in a VA facility.

New, Ongoing, and Published Research

As part of its efforts to reduce homelessness among Veterans, VA is developing new research and is supporting ongoing work on health conditions and risk factors that relate to homelessness.

Our Purpose—Serving the entire Military Community locally & nationally

Our Motivation—Supporting our most reliable asset—the US military member

Our Means—Informing legislators, supporting local events & organizations

Our Membership—Commissioned Officers of the Eight Uniformed Services (USA, USMC, USN, USAF, US Space Force, USCG, NOAA, USPHS) who strongly believe in supporting a volunteer force for the safety and security of our country

MISSION OF THE LINCOLN LAND CHAPTER

Military Officers Association of America

The Lincoln Land Chapter's mission is to foster fraternal relations among the retired, active and former uniformed services and their National Guard or reserve components; to protect the rights and interest of same to include dependents and survivors;

to further promote useful services for members of the former and current members of the Armed Forces and their dependents and survivors;

and to serve the community to the fullest extent possible.

MOAA is the nation's largest and most influential association of military officers. It is an independent, nonprofit, politically nonpartisan organization.

While MOAA is permitted by law to lobby—and does so actively—its status as a tax-exempt veterans organization precludes it from participating in political activities, which are defined as intervening directly or indirectly in any political campaign on behalf of or in opposition to any candidate for public office.

Stated briefly: the association may advocate issues, but it may not advocate the election or defeat of particular candidates or political parties. This newsletter follows the policies of MOAA National.

Reasons to Join a MOAA Chapter

You know the value of belonging to MOAA and your chapter. But when you're talking to a potential new chapter member, it's important to remember that many officers might have only limited knowledge of MOAA's chapter system.

Creating a dialogue and asking open-ended questions is the best way to find out if and how a chapter membership could help a prospective member.

Find out as much as you can about their priorities in order to tailor a response that is more likely to resonate with them personally.

Here are some aspects of membership that may appeal to them.

- 1. Make yourself heard. MOAA's chapters provide critical grassroots support for MOAA's national legislative agenda. Chapter members let their legislators know what's on their minds and open doors for MOAA's legislative team in Washington, D.C.
- 2. Give back to the community. Chapter members are MOAA's ambassadors in their communities, supporting countless programs that make a difference in the lives of others. These members continue to serve and are giving back in the truest sense.
- 3. Value added to chapter members' lives. MOAA chapters sponsor interesting programs and opportunities to interact with civic, political, military, and business leaders on issues important to members.
- 4. Networking with fellow officers. Chapters include second-career members in the work force and retired service members who have contacts in their communities that can be valuable to transitioning officers.
- 5. Stay informed. Chapter newsletters, websites, and meetings provide you with the latest information on local, state, and national issues and changes to military benefits.
- 6. Influencing state legislation. Most states have a council of chapters that unites chapters in the state. These councils, and independent chapters in states without a council, often lobby for and pass state-level legislation that affects military members and their families, such as exempting military retired pay from state income tax or increasing funding for state veterans' programs.
- 7. Camaraderie with a purpose. MOAA chapters unite active duty, former, and retired officers from every branch of service, including National Guard and Reserve, as well as surviving spouses, offering the opportunity to connect with others with similar backgrounds and interest and develop close and lasting friendships.
